

JUGS OF WHISKEY DELAY ALL TRAINS

Christmas "Shopping" of Carolina Dry Towns Heaviest in Years.

FOR LIBRARY BUILDING

Corporation Commission Doing Everything Possible to Get Appropriation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RICHMOND, N. C., December 24.—Railroad officials here say it may not be very well known, but it is nevertheless a fact that very much of the holiday operation of both Southern and Northern railroads for the past several days has been due to the handling of two hundred and fifty "Christmas jugs" shipped into North Carolina by train. As an illustration of the business done in this way, the train from Durham to Raleigh, which left Durham at 10:30 a. m. and arrived at Raleigh at 1:30 p. m., carried thirty-five jugs, and the train from Raleigh to Durham, which left Raleigh at 1:30 p. m. and arrived at Durham at 4:30 p. m., carried thirty-five jugs.
The jugs are of various sizes, and are used for the purpose of carrying liquor from the distilleries to the retailers. The jugs are of various materials, and are of various shapes.
The jugs are of various materials, and are of various shapes.

These jugs have been the order for many years, and the end is not yet in sight. Another thing that has been the cause of delay is the fact that the railroads have not been able to get the necessary power or rolling stock to handle the jugs. The railroad commissioners are doing everything possible to get the necessary power and rolling stock, but it is not yet in sight.

State Library Building.
The North Carolina Historical Commission has had a large volume of the history of the State published by the State Library Building. The volume is entitled "The History of the State of North Carolina, from 1776 to 1868." It is a large volume, and is of great value to the people of the State. It contains a full and complete history of the State, from the time of its first settlement to the present day.
It is a volume that is well worth the price of the book. It is a volume that is well worth the price of the book.

Teachers Liberal.
State Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. V. S. Jones, says that the teachers of the State are liberal in their views. He says that the teachers are not afraid to express their opinions, and that they are not afraid to stand up for their principles. He says that the teachers are not afraid to stand up for their principles, and that they are not afraid to stand up for their principles.

HEARTS MADE GLAD AT CHRISTMAS TIME

Operatives of Cotton Mills Receive $3,000 Worth of Turkey-meat From Employers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GREENSBORO, N. C., December 24.— The hearts of the operatives of the Proximity, Revolution and White Oak cotton mills were made glad Saturday by the distribution by the Messrs. Cone to the heads of families a total of $3,000 worth of turkey-meat. The turkeys weighed fifteen pounds each, and were distributed as follows: 333 at White Oak, 275 at Revolution, 323 at Proximity.
Think of 935 pounds of dressed turkey, at present high prices, for one Christmas present, and one can see something as to why the Cones and their employees work in perfect harmony and strokes are never heard of.

PERSONAL MENTION.
Many Visitors Spending the Holidays in This City.

Miss Virginia Arnold and Miss Kate Trotter, of Washington, D. C., are visiting Miss Arnold's sister, Mrs. H. C.
Shannon, at No. 100 West Grace Street.
Mr. John T. Taylor, an old and well-known citizen of Lexington, Va., was here to spend the holidays with his daughter, Mrs. Horace A. Hawkins, and his son, Mr. Arthur H. Taylor. He is reporting that at the residence of the latter, No. 27 East Grace Street, Mr.
Taylor has been engaged in the sale of high quality goods, and that he has been successful in his business.

Death of Mrs. Glazebrook.
Mrs. Virginia Calvert Key Glazebrook, wife of the Rev. O. A. Glazebrook, rector of St. John's Church, Elizabeth, N. J., died in that city Saturday morning after an illness of several months, which she bore with great fortitude and cheerfulness. The Elizabeth Daily Journal says of her: "She was a devoted mother and a loyal friend. Meeting many sorrows with a brave heart and unflinching faith, she was an inspiration to all who knew her."

Mrs. Glazebrook was distinguished through the daughter of General Francis H. Smith, founder and for many years superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., one of the most eminent educators that Virginia ever produced. Through him she was related to the Marshalls and Calverts, of which families were Lord Baltimore's. Her mother was the daughter of Dr. Alexander Henderson, formerly surgeon at West Point, who was finally descended from the Alexander Henderson who wrote "The Shutter Case," a close friend of King Charles I. and from Commodore Truxton.

"She was a member of the New Jersey Society of Colonial Dames, a charter member and treasurer for thirty years of the Independent Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and a member of the New York City Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. She leaves five children: Larkie W. Glazebrook, M. D., of Washington, D. C.; Frank H. Glazebrook, M. D., of Morristown; Hazel McKim Glazebrook; Otis A. Glazebrook, Jr., and Miss Virginia C. K. Glazebrook, of Elizabeth, N. J."

The funeral will take place on Wednesday, December 26th, and the interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Eliza Anna Winn.
Mrs. Eliza Anna Winn (nee Puffer), widow of Dr. Philip James Winn, and sister of Dr. John F. Winn, of this city, died yesterday at her home, "Winning," Fluvanna county, Va., in the seventy-eighth year of her age. She will be affectionately remembered by the many

MISS RIVES TO WED DIPLOMAT IN JAPAN

MISS HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

Will Become Wife of Post Wheeler at American Embassy in Tokio.

WASHINGTON, December 24.—Announcement has been made here that Miss Hallie Erminie Rives, a well known author, who is married to Post Wheeler, an American magazine and newspaper writer, at the American Embassy, at Tokyo, on December 24.

Mr. Wheeler is now second secretary of the American Embassy to Japan, by result of appointment of President Roosevelt, and was confirmed by the Senate last week.

The bride will be given away by Ambassador Wright, who is an old friend of the Rives family, and Mrs. Wright will be Miss Rives' matron of honor. Dr.
McKinn, whose daughter is the bride, will officiate. Mr. Wheeler's post name will be a Japanese name, who is a member of the Japanese House of Peers and was a college classmate of Mr. Wheeler in this country. Miss Rives made herself famous by her novels "Furnace of Earth," "Smoking Peak," "A Heart Parted,"
"The Castaway," and "Heart's Courage." She has made more than $100,000 so far from the sale of her books. Mrs.
James Brown, Potter has been her most intimate friend.

Miss Rives was known in her girlhood as "Hallie the Tomboy," and her father called her the "Wildcat," because of her unrestrained activity. She is a crack shot, a fearless horseback rider, and an outstanding athlete.

Miss Hallie Erminie Rives is in no way related to Frances Trouthoff, or to the Rives family of Virginia. She was born and lived for many years in Kentucky.

C. Banks, son of James A. Banks, of Salmon, died at the hospital today from appendicitis, aged 19 years.

IN MEMORIAM.
IN MEMORY OF EMIL VON KRAMER, who died November 13, 1906.

COVERED WITH ROSES.
Covered with roses, let him rest,
This pale hands crossed on the lifeless breast.
So still and cold in its death-sleep now,
Leave him with Jesus, he knows best.
Cover with roses the busy hands,
Strands, low arched on the golden strand.
Hands that were ready to do his will At the Master's bidding, now cold and still.
Those weary hands, Oh! let them rest Clasped over the many lifeless breast.
So still and cold in the death-sleep now,
Leave him with Jesus, he knows best.
Cover with roses the busy hands,
Strands, low arched on the golden
strand.
The looked for gain, the desired loss, While waiting hands upraised the cross, Ah! the weary spirit has found reward In the loving "well done" of its Lord.
Covered with roses, let him rest,
This pale hands crossed on the lifeless
breast.
Eyes that shall wake from death's long sleep.
No more to die, no more to weep.
The nerveless hands, the marble brow,
So still and cold in the death-sleep now,
Leave him with Jesus, he knows best.
Cover with roses the busy hands,
Strands, low arched on the golden
strand.
At the joyful notes of the angels' song, The dear feet shall walk through eternity on the golden strands of the crystal sea.
Covered with roses for only a while,
Then to wake in the light of the Saviour's glory.

New Banking House One of the Handsomest in the Entire South.

The Bank of Richmond, formerly located at Tenth and Main Streets, and known as the Richmond Trust and Safe Deposit Company, has more recently temporarily located in the Mutual Building, yesterday moved into its permanent home, in its own building, at Ninth and Main Streets. The property just occupied was formerly the home of the Bank of Washington, but since its purchase by the bank, it has been reconstructed throughout, and the street floor magnificently equipped and furnished as a banking house.

The banking house occupies what was formerly two stories of the old building, but which in the reconstruction has been converted into one spacious and lofty chamber. Finished in the handsomest imported marble, and with splendid modern heating, furniture and equipment.

POLK MILLER CONCERT.
Will Have His Colored Singers in the Cellar.

Mr. Polk Miller, the famous entertainer, announces that he will give his usual concert to his friends in the cellar of his drug store on Main Street, near Ninth, from 10 to 12 o'clock today.

Mr. Miller has had a custom for years of having his friends with him on Christmas morning at his store, and he always treats them to some rare songs and jokes.
He will have his usual quartet of colored singers with him today, and will intersperses their music and song with old plantation jokes, which he has a way of saying that place "to do war." Anyhow, his friends always gather in large numbers to hear his Christmas concert, and to-day promises to be no exception to the rule.

Mr. Wallace to Wed.
Mr. Jefferson Wallace, of this city, will be married today to Miss Anne Hawthorne, daughter of Mr. J. B. Hawthorne, of Chaptaw, Lunenburg county. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride.

Escaped Convict Captured.
SPENCER, N. C., December 21.—Tom Brown, a convict, who was serving a ten years' sentence in the county chain-gang for burglary, and who escaped with two other white men last week, was captured by Detectives Kridler and Poteat at Spencer today. He had donned his stripes for a citizen's suit after making his escape from the camp. The two Catholics brothers, who escaped from the gang, are still at large.

Mr. Charles Wyndham was educated by his father for the ministry, and was sent to a Methodist school in Germany for that purpose.
An epidemic of malarial fever, which at Tananarive, Madagascar, a city of some 500,000, has resulted in the death rate averaging 300 a month.

Will Increase Capital.
The interior arrangements are as convenient as they are handsome and elegant, offering every facility to employees.

It Is the Best

Lists are out of the question. If we tried to tell you all about them Christmas would be over before we got through. We briefly mention our Book Department, which contains all the choice selections from the standard authors, Bibles of every kind, Prayer-Books and Hymnals, Leather Goods, Art Calendars. Don't miss seeing our Brass and Norse Ware, the most unique and popular goods on the market. If you are "in a peck of trouble" figuring out what to give everybody—to find something they will relish and keep, we can help you out, whether it is a small gift or an expensive one. If you are as wise as you ought to be you will put your good coin in something that will keep and that your friends will keep; and that is just what our goods will do.
